Forecast for Monday 28 Feb 2022

Weather: Cloudy overnight with occasional patchy rain, falling as snow above around 800-1000m. Cloudy for much of Monday with some light outbreaks of rain and snow, but clearing skies and only a few isolated showers occasionally spreading from the west during the afternoon, particularly late afternoon towards Ben Lawers, then more generally across the whole area during the evening. Snow level 800-1000m lowering 300m for the early evening in the few isolated showers.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: Generally 20% for the morning, becoming late afternoon 70% in west, 35% in east and further improving through the evening.

Low Cloud and visibility: Moderate or poor in rain, very poor in snow as described above. Only a few metres in cloud with bases quite extensive above 500m initially, then infrequently so in the limited showery flow later.
